Disclaimer: Limitation of Liability - Subjugation clause

The responsibility for the decision of a surfer to take part in a race or to continue it lies solely with him, he also assumes the responsibility for himself and his equipment. The surfer is responsible for the correct nautical behaviour, the suitability and safe condition of the reported surf equipment. In case of force majeure, official orders or safety reasons, the organizer is entitled to make changes in the execution of the event or to cancel the event. In such cases, the organizer shall not be liable for damages to the participant. A liability of the organizer, no matter for what legal reason, for material and financial damages of any kind and their consequences, which the participant suffers during or in connection with the participation in the event due to the conduct of the organizer, his representatives, vicarious agents or agents, is limited to damages, which were caused intentionally or grossly negligent. In case of violation of cardinal obligations, the liability of the organizer in cases of simple negligence is limited to foreseeable, typically occurring damages. As far as the liability for damages of the organizer is excluded or limited, the participant exempts from the personal liability for damages also the employees, workers and staff, representatives, vicarious agents, sponsors and persons who provide, drive or assist in the deployment of towing, safety or recovery vehicles, as well as all other persons to whom an order has been placed in connection with the execution of the event. The valid racing rules of the ISAF, the racing rules, the class regulations as well as the regulations of the announcement and sailing instruction are to be kept and are expressly recognized. Rights to photo material in connection with the regattas are automatically transferred to the organizing club for any publications.
